Backpacking Guide – Page | 1

Backpacking Guide

'Backpacking' is a process that allows you to download your eCert and display it on several websites such as LinkedIn.

Once you've earned your first eCert, you can display it and show your achievements.

Getting Started

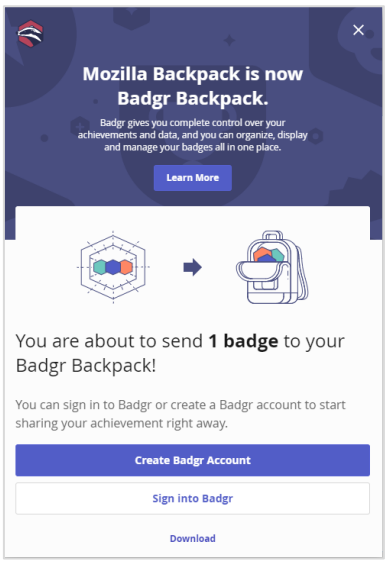

It's very easy to display your eCert on social media and other websites.

Finding your eCert

1. Please click on the eCert you would like to display from "My eCerts".
2. From the pop-up, select "SignIn" in the "Backpack" section.

Register/log into Badgr Backpack

3. You will be asked to log into Badgr Backpack, with the following prompt;

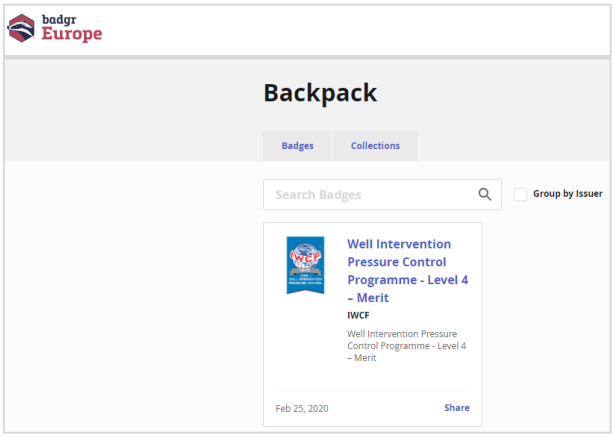

4. Simply enter your login details if you have a Mozilla account, or register for a new account

   Please ensure that your Badgr Badges account is registered under your FORUM email address. Additionally, once you register – you must verify your Badgr Backpack Badges account before you will be able to backpack any eCerts.

Backpacking Guide – Page | 2

5. Once you are logged in the eCert will automatically transfer to Badgr and will then be ready for sharing.

Displaying your eCert on LinkedIn

6. Go to LinkedIn and log in to your account
7. Go to Edit Profile by hovering over the Profile tab in the top left
8. Choose which section of your profile you want to display badges in (for example, the summary section at the top of your profile)
9. Hover over the + dropdown and click “Add Link”
10. Log in to your Open Badgr Backpack and open the badge collection you want to display
11. Click the “Share This Group” icon in the collection box and choose a social media platform to access the URL for your badge collection
12. Copy the link for this page (you do not have to go through with sharing your badges if you don’t want to, just close the pop-up window after copying the link)
13. Paste the link into the Add Link field in LinkedIn, add descriptor info, and save